

Welcome from the City of Lewes

To all of our visitors and residents, welcome to the new Lewes Canalfront Park.

The City of Lewes is proud to have been an active partner in the development of the Park since its inception, and we will manage it as part of our park system for many years to come.

We are pleased to provide this wonderful amenity to all who live and visit here. Waterfront assets like the Park are difficult to preserve and it was only through an active public-partnership that this valuable 4.9 acre site was protected for future generations.

The City of Lewes came into being because of its unique geography that created an important harbor of refuge for ocean-going ships. For over 375 years, Lewes has continued to have a special relationship with the sea. The Canalfront Park is a celebration of that important history.

The Park will also be a central gathering point for friends, visitors, residents and non-profit organizations who need a place to stage their events and activities. It will be a vibrant and active place to visit and we welcome and encourage your participation.

With kind regards,

Hon. James L. Ford III
Mayor, City of Lewes
